Family Self-Sufficiency Program-Lycoming Housing

This federally funded program is offered for residents receiving public housing or Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers. An FSS Coordinator works closely with participants, helping them to set and complete goals within a maximum of five years. During this time, as income increases through goals being met, rent increases as well.

The difference between the rent paid when starting the program and the new rent they are required to pay is placed in a savings account for them. If they meet all goals in the time allotted, and become free of public assistance programs, the money is theirs to keep. If goals are not met, the money reverts back to rent.

Mental Health Resources

Beacon Hub Drop In Center

Beacon Hub Drop-In Center gives participants a safe environment where they can interact while receiving skills training; learning about recycling, nutrition, budgeting; finding necessary resources within the community to meet their individual needs (examples include the soup kitchen, 12-step recovery meetings, or others); and an open-attendance policy for when they feel the need for added support in their lives. Requirements for participation include the participant having a mental health diagnosis and/or cognitive disability, being 18 years or older, being a resident of Lycoming or Clinton Counties, agreement to follow the rules and regulations of the program while in attendance, and a willingness to become part of a group for peer support. It is also required that participants sign in and out upon arrival or departure to the facility for safety measures. Members are assisted in community integration, learning the local transportation system, and other outings in an effort to not only promote community integration, but also to educate the general public. Participants become a positive example for members of the general population to challenge their own negative learned beliefs about individuals with mental health and/or intellectual disabilities.

The TeenLink program has several components designed to prepare the students for the demands of adult life and help them reach their highest level of independence.

Summer Programs

The TeenLink Summer Program is a six week “camp” for students ages 14-21 who could benefit from training in domestic skills, social/personal skills, time management, recreational and vocational skills. Depending on enrollment, there could be multiple sessions and each will be held for six consecutive weeks on Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00 P.M. to 3:30 P.M. at the TeenLink House, 612 Willow Street, Montoursville, PA. Teens In Transition (TNT)

As students approach graduation from high school, they are often faced with fear and uncertainty regarding their future. The same holds true for students with disabilities. These students must learn to navigate their way through various adult social service systems, take charge of their own health care and decisions, and seek employment.

Parents of children with disabilities often view their role as that of protective, nurturing caregiver, and struggle with the idea of their child living independently. As a result, these children are often deprived of the opportunity to develop skills that others take for granted, such as cooking, cleaning, budgeting, accessing public transportation, and becoming self-reliant.

School districts offer an academic setting for students with disabilities, but that curriculum is restricted by class size and scheduling. Real-life situations that students may encounter are difficult to simulate in a classroom.
