The victim reported another incident that occurred when she was approximately 12 or 13 years old and reportedly before 7th grade. The victim reported that her and her father would play racquetball together at the Intramural Building on the Penn State campus. The victim reported that this was something they did on a regular basis. The victim reported that one night in the winter time when it was snowing out, they had left the house to go play racquetball. The victim reported that they did not go play racquetball and instead her father took her to an unknown place in State College. The victim described the place as a small space with some furniture and no carpet. The victim reported that she recalled seeing the lights of the Bryce Jordan Center while on the way and her father telling her that there was an event going on at the Bryce Jordan Center that night. The victim reported that once they were at the place her father began to have sexual intercourse with her. The victim remembers being in an uncomfortable position during the intercourse. The victim reported that she recalls being up against a wall during the intercourse and feeling really uncomfortable. The victim reported that after the sexual intercourse they went home and never played racquetball.

The victim reported another incident that she knew the exact date for because it was the day her father's psychology license was suspended. The victim reported that she recalls the incident occurring in November of 2012 when she was 15 years old. The victim reported that it was a week day and her mother had picked her up at the high school from cross country practice. The victim reported that her mother told her why her father's psychology license was being suspended. The victim was told that her father was claiming that the allegations made against him were not true. The victim stated that when they go home she saw her father and he was visibly sad and remembers this because he did not typically show emotion. The victim reported that later that night her father had come to her room in the downstairs bedroom/studio and had sexual intercourse with her. The victim described her father as being sad, gentle, and passionate with her during the sexual intercourse. The victim stated that it was a very confusing incident with a lot of emotions and confusion. The victim reported that the incident did last long and she recalls just looking at the ceiling and fixating on the light fixture during the sexual intercourse.

Docket Number: CR-39-21	Date Filed: 3/11/21	OTN/LiveScan Number R124927-5	Complaint/Incident Number BCC200110
Defendant Name:	First: RICHARD	Middle: SCOTT	Last: LENHART

The victim reported that the last incident she recalled occurred after she had moved out of state with her mother in 2013. The victim reported that she had returned to State College around Thanksgiving to visit and stayed with her father during her visit. The victim reported that her father was living with his friend/girlfriend and her young son in the Park Forest area of State College, possibly 690 Galen Drive, State College. The victim reported that she was going to stay with a family friend during her visit. Her father got into a huge fight with the family friend about her staying with her and insisted that she stay with him, since he was her father. The victim reported that she remembers it being a day when they dropped her father's girlfriend off at work. The victim reported that the incident with her father occurred at her father's girlfriends place and that it was in the late afternoon. The victim reported that the incident happened in the bedroom on the bed where her father and his girlfriend slept. The victim reported that she recalled some touching of her hair and her father kissing her neck and then sexual intercourse. The victim reported that she would describe her father as being happy and trying to make the sexual contact about her and not him. The victim reported that after the incident, she returned home and was mentally in bad shape. The victim reported that she also "self-harmed" herself during her visit and did not shower for several days following the incident.

The victim was asked about her self-harming and when it started. The victim reported that she started the "cutting" behavior at around age 10. The victim who had significant visible scarring on her body from the "cutting", reported that she was always unsure why she did it and just recently began to realize that the sexual abuse was the reason. The victim reported that she did not engage in any type of self-harming behavior prior to the sexual abuse by her father.

On 3/10/21, Special Agent Weaver and Detective Craig Ripka attempted to interview Richard Scott Lenhart at the State Correctional Institution at Rockview.

Lenhart was advised of his Miranda rights and stated that he understood, but was unsure if he wanted to speak. Lenhart began to make statements after being advised of his Miranda. Lenhart stated that he never did anything inappropriate with his daughter. Agent Weaver advised Lenhart that based upon interviews with his daughter and witnesses, his daughter was very credible. Lenhart stated that he doesn't think his daughter is lying. Lenhart stated that he believes that she really thinks something happened. Lenhart went on to state again, that he never did anything to his daughter. Lenhart stated that his daughter saw a counselor when she was young and if he had done something to his daughter, she would have said something at the time. Agent Weaver advised Lenhart that most victims of sexual abuse rarely report the abuse at the time and most disclose later in life. Lenhart stated that he feels that his daughter really believes that something happened, but it is fabricated due to other events in her life. Agent Weaver advised Lenhart that he felt he was conveniently using psychology to explain and fit his situation. Lenhart then requested to end the interview.
