CONCLUSION

The amendments which have provided for a stronger and more useful forfeiture act have provided a tool to law enforcement with excellent potential. We are now only at the beginning of the effective utilization of this tool.

This initial report on the operation of the forfeiture law represents the diligent efforts of many. The Legislature has provided those of us responsible for drug law enforcement with an effective tool with which to work towards waging a successful war against drugs.

There are many battles to be fought and there is much experience to be gained. Through a process of confrontation and education the forfeiture law will realize its ultimate effectiveness.

Respectfully submitted,

LEROY S. ZIMMERMAN
ATTORNEY GENERAL
